

tomorrow?

by Sho Botham

what is this thing, tomorrow?

untouchable?

unembraceable?

unachievable?

tomorrow is the day after today but what is the day after today?

does it exist?

when it comes

it is no longer tomorrow

it is today

tomorrow only exists in the future

never in the present

never in the past

is tomorrow a figment

of the imagination

created by the mind

to fit logically

into life's tale

the day before
it is going to happen?
only happening on today
never tomorrow

if tomorrow never comes
is mentioning it
simply a way of cheating time
creating an order
that can never be fulfilled?

tomorrow can be a date
the date of tomorrow
a date is real
it will occur
but waking up on that date
it will not be tomorrow
it will be today
it will always be today
never tomorrow

is mañana tomorrow?
or a much later time?
mañana, mañana
rarely means something
is about to happen
the next day
mañana, mañana
has a sense of never
about it

so, what is this thing, tomorrow?

untouchable?

unembraceable?

unachievable?

in the future

not in the present

not in the past

with a sense of

about it

do we know this thing tomorrow?

does it matter?

after all tomorrow is another day.
